

Codebook for Comprehensive Sales Rubric

2024

This codebook provides explanatory information about the questions, response options, scores, and scoring criteria in the Comprehensive Sales Rubric so that PETS users can better understand how the rubric provides the rationale for analyzing and grading California’s local tobacco prevention policies.

The Coder Instructions below provide an overview of the rigorous analysis guidelines used by PETS analysts to inform the analysis and scoring of every tobacco prevention policy against each rubric question.

Scoring Criteria

The Comprehensive Sales Rubric questions, response options, scores, and scoring criteria were developed and reviewed by tobacco prevention policy experts at ANRF in consultation with CTPP and the PETS Advisory Committee, including attorneys with expertise in local tobacco prevention policy language. Model policy language referenced in the development of the Comprehensive Sales Rubric is from The Law and Policy Partnership to End the Commercial Tobacco Epidemic's California Comprehensive Tobacco Retailer Licensing Ordinance \(2020\), and ChangeLab Solutions' Model Ordinance: Comprehensive Tobacco Retailer Licensing \(2019\).

Rubric language that is crossed out (e.g. Q1a) indicates that PETS analysis is temporarily not being done on these questions and thus data is not yet available for these fields. PETS will resume analysis and data collection on these questions at a future date.

If a place prohibits the sale of ESDs that are new products and require FDA approval, or that require premarket review, or any similar language, note the exact language and include “FDA” in the note.

If it is unclear whether all are covered, as opposed to just some, this option is appropriate. Note: In order for the policy to apply to heated tobacco, it must either specifically say “heated” or “heat-not-burn” or have language in the definition of “tobacco product” that requires actual tobacco leaf/tobacco-derived substance, or contains the following language or similar: “a product containing or delivering nicotine or any other substance intended for human consumption” or that contains language referencing “a product or formulation of matter containing biologically active amounts of nicotine...with the expectation that the product...will be introduced into the human body.” This is because such language indicates that combustion is not the triggering factor, but rather, tobacco/nicotine as an ingredient is the trigger. A policy adopted prior to 2020 when heated tobacco was introduced into the market would still be considered to apply to heated tobacco if the above is satisfied. However, if combustion is required for regulation, heated tobacco products would not be considered among a policy’s regulated products. IQOS is an example of a heated tobacco product.
